Parenting and Family Support

Many parents often ask for support with lots of things. There is a very useful website called Family Lives. Details can be found out <http://www.familylives.org.uk/>.

The website offers support with all aspects of family life that include all stages of a child's development, issues with schools and parenting/relationship support. It can also respond when life becomes more complicated and provides support around family breakdown, aggression in the home, bullying at school, teenage risky behaviour and mental health concerns of both parents and their children. It provides a 24 hour helpline, advice website, live chat and parenting/relationship support groups as well as online training.
